ARGUMENTS ON MAN POWER BILL

Chairman Dent of House Committee Advocates Calling Men Between 18 and 21 After Other Classes Are Exhausted.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 17.—Chairman Dent of the house military affairs committee favors writing into the new man power bill extending the draft ages from 18 to 45 years, a provision that the older men subject to it be called before the 18-20-year classes are.

In its present form the bill leaves it to the discretion of the president as to when those between 18 and 21, and between 21 and 45 shall be drafted. Chairman Dent strongly advocates that youths of 18, 19 and 20, if they are required for the army, be the last to be called. It is his plan to have those between 21 and 32 called first. Then those between 32 and 38 and so on up to 45 until all eligibles in those ages have been exhausted. Not until then would he have the younger men drafted, he said.

He estimates that considerable time would elapse before the supply of older men would not be found sufficient to meet the needs of the army.
How much time would actually elapse he is not yet prepared to estimate, as the necessary figures upon which to base such an estimate are not available.

When Secretary Baker, General
March, and Provost Marshal General Crowder appear before the house military affairs committee on Monday it is the intention of the chairman to have the meeting public. He proposed to go over the entire question of the war department request for the increase of man power publicly. Instead of behind closed doors, as was done when the war department officials appeared recently before the senate military affairs committee.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon and Senator Johnson of California, express the belief that the new draft bill will have passed the senate by next Saturday, although this belief is not shared by some of their colleagues.

It is a general impression that the house will take considerably longer than the senate to dispose of the measure. Although Chairman Dent's plan to provide specifically for the drafting of the older men first is expected to satisfy some of the members of the house, who are strongly opposed to youths of 18, for instance, being inducted into the army.

By the end of August, however, the supporters of the bill appear confident that it will have been passed by both the senate and the house and be in the hands of President Wilson.

VETS OF 1898 SOLDIERS OF '18

Members of Company M Who Saw Service in Spanish War Now Doing Their Bit in War Against Huns.

The 20th anniversary of the landing of Company M of this city in Honolulu, Hawaii, occurred Thursday, August 15. The next day (Friday) was the anniversary of the march of the boys from the dock to their encampment on the race track;
a month or so later moving into camp at Diamond Head.

Company M was then in the 8th
Army Corps, First New York Volunteers, going from Kingston 1893 strong.

Robert F. Tompkins, captain of the company, is now in New York. He was in this city at the 20th reunion of Company M, May 2.

On December 10, 1925, the company shipped from Honolulu and arrived home two days after Christmas.
A bronze tablet put into the armory very properly immortalizes the Kingston boys who entered the United States service in its war with Spain.
The men who were then enrolled with this company for Uncle Sam are now widely scattered, many of them holding high and honorable positions in civil life. A large number are dead, the most recent being their corporal, John J. Jerson, who died in government service in France.

Those of that command then in war service who are now fighting for their country, are:

Then Private Luke Van Demark of 1898 now holds the commission of captain in the transport service.

JAMES HYLAND HIT BY SHRAPNEL

Kingston Man in Old Sixty-ninth Didn't Want to Go to Hospital—
Thomas Hyland Wants "Another Chance up There."

JAMES HYLAND.
Mrs. P. Hyland of 120 Prospect street has received a letter from her son, Thomas, as follows:

Saturday, July 20, 1918.
Dear Mother:
I know by this time you have heard about brother James being slightly wounded, but do not worry, he will be all right in a few weeks.
It happened Tuesday. He was hit in the leg with shrapnel. He was taken to the hospital, but he did not want to go. He wanted to stay in the trenches. It happened when the Germans made an attack, but they never advanced after they left their trenches. I suppose you know about the great victory for the Allies by this time.

James's company suffered heavy losses almost the whole Second Battalion, but the Germans got the worst end of it. I was not in the trenches at the time James was hit.
We just got back to a town and this is the first chance I had to write to you.

I don't know where we are going from here, but I hope we will go again soon and see the finish of it.
I want to get another chance up there. The whole regiment is in this town.

Father Duffy was in the front line trench during all the fighting. He helped to bury the dead. He was to the hospital to see James. He said, "Here is one I won't have to bury."

We lost one man in our company and ten wounded, but I came out lucky. Well, mother, I will close for this time. Now, mother, do not worry about James, he is alright.
Tell Alice to write and tell her I received her letter and loved it. By from your loving son.

THOMAS L. HYLAND, Headquarters Co. 165th U. S. Infantry, Signal Platoon.

SOLDIERS WAR NEWS.

Comes Chiefly From Reading Newspapers Says Markson.

David Markson, who left last spring with a drafted contingent, writes the following to a former co-worker in The Freeman composing room:

Knight of Columbus
War Activities.
July 15, 1918.

Dear Friend:—With to thank you very much for The Freeman. I can assure you that The Freeman contains more news about the war than some of the papers to be had over here and I only wish that I could secure a copy of the paper as soon as it leaves the press. Many are the days when we do not receive the papers sold over here but by reading The Freeman you get back all the lost news, for those actually engaged in the war have to depend on the newspapers to find out what is going on. Suppose The Freeman service hasn't been quite a few stars.

Meet the Kingston crowd quite often. "Gink" Radell sends his best regards. The last time I met him was at a minstrel show given within sight of the enemy. Folen belongs to the show and is one of the star performers. Am busy this week digging trenches and making camouflage out of bushes. Our best friends in this section are our rifles, gas masks and steel helmets. As I am writing this letter a Hun aeroplane, high up in the air, is being chased back across his line by the anti-aircraft guns.

How is "Bill" Anderson getting along? He certainly is some "Bill." Did Jim get my letters? Best regards to all and don't forget to write. Your friend,
"DOTY" MARKSON.

Red Cross Announces That Only Five Per Cent Die.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 17.—Eighty-one per cent of the Americans wounded in the fighting in France, have returned or will return to the front for service, fourteen per cent have been discharged from the army as unfit for further service and only five per cent have died. This announcement showing the excellence of the medical attention received by the American wounded, was made here today by the Red Cross.

BRITISH AIRMEN IN MANY FIGHTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 15.—British airmen attacked and damaged a German destroyer by obtaining a direct hit upon the warship with a bomb, the British Admiralty announces.

Afterwards a big explosion was seen to occur upon the destroyer.
In air engagements from August 3 to August 15, said the communiqué, 16 German aeroplanes and one battalion were destroyed and 15 others were driven out of control.

In the same period six tons of bombs were dropped on Zebrugge and the Ostend docks and on other German military works in Flanders.
At the Varsebaere aerodrome, six German aeroplanes that were lined up were set on fire and the conflagration spread to the hangars on both sides. Two Gotha hangars were struck and one was demolished.

British aeroplanes and airships, maintained a vigilant patrol over the sea attacking German submarines, destroying mines and harassing enemy shipping.

Only three British machines failed to return, following the numerous engagements with the enemy.

GOV'T CONTROL OF PACKING INDUSTRY

Passage of Senator Borah's Bill For Supervision During Period of War Believed Sure.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 17.—A bill carrying out the federal trade commission recommendations, that the packing industry be supervised for the period of the war by the United States government will be introduced by Senator Borah of Idaho, soon after the senate reconvenes.

Senator Borah announced today that the bill is now in preparation by the federal trade commission. He believed its passage was certain and that it would have the active support of the administration forces in both houses. The bill will give the government power to supervise the transportation of meats and to control the stockyards, but would not federalize the entire packing business and the manufacture of by products.

"It is a temporary measure aimed to check profiteering," said Senator Borah. "In my opinion, however, it goes as far as it is wise to go in war time when the attention of the government must be centered on things contributing more directly to the winning of the war. After the war, of course, I shall stand for complete government ownership."

"Additional legislation to allow the president to supervise transportation of meats and control the stock yards, is necessary, Borah believed. The authority conferred in the national defense act, the railway control law and the food control law is sufficient, he said. However, the federal trade commission takes the opposite view and holds that any action must wait on the new legislation.

If the evidence the federal trade commission has, can be substantiated, many of the packers can be put in jail for violation of the Sherman law, Borah asserted.

"And that might help matters considerably," he added. "The example would prevent repetition of these unfair practices."

ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI CONTROL MOSCOW

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 17.—Moscow is now in the power of the Social Revolutionaries (the anti-Bolsheviks) said a Stockholm dispatch in the Times today. The situation at Moscow is critical.

The Soviet government has removed the Russian national bank from Moscow.
German troops are daily expected to reach Petrograd, said the dispatch, and occupy part of the railway leading from the capital to the northern coast.

It was reported yesterday that the Bolsheviks at Moscow had fortified and occupied Kremlin Palace.

POISONED MAN WAS ENEMY ALIEN

District Attorney Says Cossack
Man Who Died After Drinking
Root Beer Planned to Blow Up
His Property.

Emil J. Gerstenberg of Cossack, who died on his farm last Thursday after drinking poisoned home made root beer was an alien enemy, born in Germany, and had failed to register as an alien, according to District Attorney Harry McK. Curtis of Cox-sackie.

He said Gerstenberg had seven sticks of dynamite hidden on his farm, with which evidence has disclosed he intended to blow up the farm house and barns, which he believed A. Mitchell Palmer intended to seize because he was an alien enemy.

Mr. Curtis and a state trooper visited the farm yesterday and found the dynamite hidden under a barrel.
Lester Gerstenberg, thirteen years old, son of the dead man, told how his father had the dynamite on the farm and that when the child discovered it, his father promised him a bicycle if he would promise not to tell it to anyone. Gerstenberg's two brothers, Otto and Richard, are naturalized citizens. The coroner's inquest will take place next week.

GALLI-CURCI SUE.

Famous Singer Has Summer Residence near Pine Hill.

Amelia Galli-Curci, who in her debut in New York last winter won the reputation of being one of the world's greatest singers, was named as a defendant, together with Gennaro Curci, her brother, and Isidor H. Goldfarb, in a suit for damages resulting from an automobile accident in papers filed in the supreme court in New York city Friday by Pauline Mendelssohn, as guardian of Benjamin J. Mendelssohn. The amount of damages asked will not be known until the complaint is filed.
The plaintiff asks that she be appointed guardian in order to press the suit, since her son is not of age.
She alleges that on July 16 the boy was injured near Pine Hill, in the Catskills, "through the acts of the defendants in allowing their automobiles to collide without any negligence on the part of the plaintiff." Galli-Curci is at her summer home,
"Grove Mount," near Highlandmont.

3,500,000 IN FRANCE BY JUNE, 1919

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 17.—American troops in France and on the way now total 1,450,000. General Peyton C.
March, chief of staff, informed members of the senate military affairs committee today, increased shipments of troops may now be expected, said General March, due to the vastly improved conditions both on this side of the Atlantic and in France.

General March told of the remarkable health conditions obtaining in the overseas force, pointing to the recent report of Surgeon General Gokey, announced that the hospital death rate was only two for every thousand men.

Members of the committee following the conference with the chief of staff, expressed the conviction that the war department's program of 3, 300,000 men in France by June of next year would be realized beyond any question of doubt, and some were of the opinion that it might be exceeded.

General March touched upon the Russian situation, but the information he gave out was in strict confidence and members refused to reveal it.

completed Thursday by representa-desired, but it is believed by an ex-

water frontage may be had.

and evening a fair and supper will be held on Newburgh's lawn, at Martinez's. Supper beginning at 6

WAR AT A GLANCE

Allied troops have again smashed ahead on the Picardy and Flanders fronts.

On the Picardy front the British and French are carrying out with steady success their triple enveloping movement against the German key positions on Albert and Lassigny and the German base at Roye.

North of the Roye road the British last night lurked forward, making another gain, while the French fought their way through the Logeforest, south of the city, attaining the eastern border.

Although the operations of the past twenty-four hours have been on a minor scale, the Allies are biting huge chunks out of the German front in the Morris-Vieux-Berquin sector of the Flanders front and on the southern end of the Picardy battle zone.

The Allies are only about one mile from Roye and are pushing onward despite the desperate resistance of the Germans. The greatest German efforts to stem the Allied advance were centered late yesterday and last night just west of the Oise river, where the French are pushing up the Compiègne-Noyon railway in their attacks on Lassigny.

The powerful German counter attacks were made in that region, but the attacking troops were hurled back and the French positions remained absolutely intact.

The German line bulges in a southwesterly direction in that area and if the French advance continues much farther the Germans probably will be compelled to withdraw, just as they have been retiring on the Lys salient and north of Albert.

Acting in the closest co-operation, the British and French are delivering a series of concerted thrusts in both sectors, which taken relatively make up a very wide front.

Already the important result of these tactics is plainly seen. Roye is half encircled and the British are pushing east of Albert both to the north and south of the city.

In the zones around Roye and Lassigny the Germans are now back upon the line, which they occupied long before the offensive operations began early this year.

Violent cannonading is reported from the northern end of the Flemish front, particularly along the Franco-Belgian frontier at Arras and Ypres. Whether or not this increasing activity of German artillery in that region precludes an infantry action cannot be foreseen. It is probable, however, that the bombarding is mainly for the purpose of harassing the British and doing as much damage to their defensive works and transport service.

This was the tenth day of the Allied newest offensive in Picardy.

There is a lull in the infantry fighting along the Vosle river (south of the Aisne), where American soldiers are holding the line.

U-BOATS HERE STILL TAKE TOLL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 17.—The French cruiser Dupetit-Thouars, while cruising with the American fleet in the Atlantic, was submarine August 7.
American destroyers rescued all but thirteen members of the crew.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The crew of the American schooner Madagah, dah, destroyed by a submarine on August 15, has been landed at an Atlantic port by a Norwegian vessel, the navy department announced this afternoon.

They were picked up eleven miles south of Winter Quarter Shoals, light near where the attack took place.

The master of the vessel reported that the Madagadah had been attacked at 7:15 on the evening of August 15, the submarine firing eleven shots into her hull. After the schooner had been abandoned, the U-boat drew alongside and fired two more shots into her. When last seen the vessel was in flames and it is assumed that she was burnt to the waters edge.

The crew consisted of 23 men, including a naval wireless operator.

OUR COUNTRY'S TWO NAMES.

Whatever anybody at home or abroad may say to the contrary, we are Americans and—whenever it is not convenient to employ United States—our country is "America." Of course it is technically incorrect to appropriate the original name of the whole continent, but it is unavoidable and Europe did the appropriating for us before we did it ourselves. The Wellesley professor who laments that we have a country "without a name" is absurd; our country has two names which may be employed at will. Almost equally at fault is Garrett P. Serviss in his contention that the noun America as applied to the United States has come into use abroad during the present war. This country was called America and the people living in it were called Americans as far back as George III and Louis XIV. To France Washington, Jefferson and Franklin were great "Americans." This was the result of the simple fact that in those early times the other countries of the New World were practically unknown, we being the only "Americans" of sufficient importance for notice.

From time out of mind our embassies and consulates have been known as American rather than United States embassies and consulates. In what European capital have the officials or people chosen to say "the United States minister or ambassador" instead of the American minister or ambassador? We have not deliberately taken the name of the continent; it has been given to us by Europe because we were the first nation of any consequence in this hemisphere and because our relative importance has always been overshadowing. Fortunately all the other countries of this hemisphere have distinctive names and there is no confusion at all when we are called Americans and our country America.

AGE TELLING PROVISION.

According to accounts from a suffrage State in the West, the unwillingness of women to allow their ages to be put on record has resulted in a very small register of the names of women in advance of the primaries. Reports from some of the larger towns have shown that the age-confessing feature of registration kept the great majority of the women voters at home. We read: "The question, 'How old are you?' invariably brings protest. 'I am over 21,' one woman told the commissioner. 'That will not do,' he said. 'You must give me your correct age.' She turned upon her heel and walked out without registering. Women who are over 40 generally are the ones who refuse to register."

This unwillingness to give the date of birth is said to have suggested a plan of campaign to the women of the anti-suffrage league. What if they should insist on and secure the adoption of an age-telling registration provision in all suffrage laws on the ground that their sisters of the opposition should neither be denied any man's privileges nor be allowed to shirk any of his duties? Perhaps they are not far wrong in believing that this would cause no little consternation and tend to cool the ardor of no few enthusiastic woman suffragists.

In beginning an early Christmas shopping campaign the first week in August the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense calls to mind the Philadelphia newspaper who tried in vain to sell his papers by shouting "All about the terrible coal shortage" when the mercury recently stood at 104.

Some few of those yards of individual heroism coming from the American battle front tend to strain the credulity of even the most ardent patriot, but their taste is so agreeable that most of us swallow them without blinking.

"Yes, we used to sit out in the old summer house in the beautiful moonlight. Strange to say, Jack never loved me as often as I accused him of doing."

There was a shriek and a splash, followed by another splash immediately afterwards, as the would-be rescuer swam to where the lady had disappeared under the water. He caught her as she struggled to the surface, and sought to calm her. "Don't struggle, madam," he spluttered, "we are quite safe; the lake is quite calm, and as clear as a mirror, and—"

"Well, let me my arm, then," said the not comforted lady, "and let me look into it. I think my hair is coming down."—London Answer.

An Eye to Business.

In a certain Sunday school on a Sunday afternoon one of the teachers became somewhat faint, and was placed upon a bench while the usual restoratives were applied. Suddenly a little girl stood up and persistently called, "Teacher! teacher!" in order to attract the attention of one of those who were attending to the unfortunate invalid. At last the little one was heard, and the teacher, turning round, asked in a somewhat hasty manner: "Well, what is it?" "Please, teacher," replied the child, "my father makes coffee."—From Pearson's Weekly.

K. OF C. WAR FUND.

Gained $25,000 Last Night at Boxing Carnival.

By Telegram to the Freeman.
New York, Aug. 17.—The Knights of Columbus war fund is $25,000 richer today as a result of a monster boxing carnival held at Ebbett's Field, Brooklyn, last night. Jack Dempsey, the man of the hour in heavy weight circles, disappointed a big crowd by refusing to go through with his scheduled six round exhibition with Battling Levinsky, but other bouts made up for his failure to appear. Johnny Dundee and Ed-Ed Wallace and Rex Cline and Phil Bloom staged whirlwind four round bouts, which featured the card.

ROCHES BOMBED HOSPITAL.

In Which Private Maus Was Lying Injured.

Mrs. John G. Maus of Wall street, this city, has received the following from her husband, who is a machine gunner in France:

On Active Service With the American Expeditionary Forces.
July 24, 1918.

My Dear Wife:

I have had no time and no paper on which to write so could not write to you. I was slightly hurt a week ago and have been in a hospital since but expect to be back among the boys soon. I read in the newspapers that we are going home; hope it continues. After I was hurt, I was sent to the hospital which was also bombed by the Boche and within a foot of me a lad was killed and on the other side why a few were hurt. There can be no doubt in any American's mind now as to the German's tactics. The next day Red Cross men came from Paris and took some pictures of the damage done by the four bombs, of which three exploded. If by chance they are exhibited, be sure and see them as you will see something to your advantage. Maybe you will be surprised at the looks of two or three. I have no more to say for anything German after that attack as I believe that is the most cowardly thing they could do on fellows that were already injured. I met a nurse in that hospital from Albany and the one that relieved her for night duty was also injured.

We are situated back in the central part of France and are in a fine town, only a few have it on her for size; the first decent city I have been in France, pretty fast town. The Red Cross in this country are doing wonderful work and are certainly appreciated by the boys. All money given to Red Cross is certainly well spent, more so than any other donation.

Well I will close now, wishing you well.

From JACK.

UNION CENTER.

Union Center, Aug. 17.—The annual Sunday school picnic will be held in Herring's orchard on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, August 20. Supper will be served as usual to the members of the school. The committee are making arrangements to have an abundant supply of refreshments on hand, including ice cream, soft drinks, peanuts, candy and plenty of watermelon, so everybody come and have a good time.

A large number from this place attended the picnic on the Payne estate at West Park on Wednesday. A few drove their horses, a great many went on the noon train and others made the trip by auto through the kindness of John Herring. It was a most successful day and the committee are making arrangements to have an abundant supply of refreshments on hand, including ice cream, soft drinks, peanuts, candy and plenty of watermelon, so everybody come and have a good time.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

"Woman's skirts to be tighter and shorter I notice is fashion's decree, and as I read it I ponder how much shorter—can they be?" hummed the City Hall Poet this morning.

"For nowadays from a rearward view I can't tell mother from daughter, can you?" chimed in the City Hall oracle.

The police board held its regular monthly session Friday evening, but only routine business was transacted.

Owing to lack of a quorum the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works was not held Friday but will be held next week. In the meantime the members of the street force are wondering what action, if any, the board will take in regard to their petition for more pay.

The street department employees some time ago presented a petition to the board asking for an increase in wages, and this petition is being considered by the board.

There were no cases in police court this morning.

It is expected that a report on the tree situation in Kingston will be submitted in time to be taken up by the board of public works at the session next week. Tree Expert Cox has been in Kingston going over the ground, and his report is awaited with interest by all who have trees in front of their property.

City Clerk Doremus stated this morning that no more protests in regard to the common council granting the petition of the gas company to boost the gas rate 30 cents had been filed with him. The city fathers will continue the public hearing Tuesday evening at which time it is expected that the council chamber will contain a large delegation of those who protest against the city fathers granting the petition.

Whether the city fathers will grant the petition or not is exciting considerable speculation among the 5,000 gas users in the city.

NINETY PER CENT OF THE RETAIL FOOD BUSINESS OF KINGSTON IS IN THE HANDS OF MEMBERS OF THE RETAIL GROCERS' AND BUTCHERS' ASSOCIATION.

A call is sent out with very much earnestness to the retail grocers and butchers throughout the county to meet the city dealers at their next monthly meeting to be held the second Wednesday in the month and get important information regarding the food supplies from the Food Administrator of the county.

The importance of this association in dispensing foods through the usual channels is recognized by the Food Administrator. It is plain to him that more effective compliance, more general observance of the nation's food rules, can be obtained through co-operation of the retail dealers themselves than with all that can be done in circulars.

The Food Administrator meets the association members face to face. There he can tell them very much that cannot be published; very much that gives a better understanding of conditions to those who sell foods than they can get in any other way.

MR. GROCER, MR. BUTCHER, YOU CAN BETTER CO-OPERATE WITH HIM BY BECOMING A MEMBER OF THIS ASSOCIATION AND GETTING ON THE INSIDE.

The appeals for members that have been made through these columns several times have brought a number of responses from merchants in several towns of the county. This is highly satisfactory. But all dealers of importance and standing in the county are wanted in the association.

In co-operation there is strength. The association can benefit you and you can help not alone the association by joining it but yourself materially and your customers in every way.

Association grocers and butchers are the dealers who serve the public with the highest efficiency. A membership goes out to the public as the best endorsement of a dealer, a surety that customers of that man may repose absolute confidence in his methods, his service, his weights and measures, his prices, the quality of his goods, his personal representations to his customers.

In the few months the association has been organized it has grown rapidly in membership and has become popular and helpful to the public. The cost of a membership is merely nominal. The association has a treasury with ample funds, for no salaries are paid, except a small sum to the secretary.

YOU CAN SEND IN YOUR APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP AT ANY TIME TO ANY PERSONAL FRIEND AND YOU WILL BE WELCOMED.

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

Preparations Being Made For Flotation In This District.

All during the past few weeks district chairmen and committeemen have been touring the seventeen counties comprising district 5 of the Second Federal Reserve District, preparing the people for the coming Liberty Loan.

In the absence of definite announcement from Washington, regarding the size of the new government issue of bonds or rate of interest that they will bear, no exact information can be conveyed to the people about the new loan. They were told, however, that it will in all probability break all records for either public or private bond flotation.

The main mission of the committeemen was to convey to the people that, in view of the government's enormous war plans, a larger free will offering would be expected than ever before. It was pointed out that every one must be prepared to make sacrifices in order to put the loan over.

Chairman Charles S. Sargent has planned to increase the number of district chairmen, although he has found it possible in some cases to combine some of the smaller local committees in certain small towns; one man will serve as a canvasser and will do the work of an entire committee.

At least 15,000 men and women will work together in the large territory included in district 5. The district counties are: Albany, Clinton, Dutchess, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Orange, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schoenectady, Schenectady, Ulster, Warren and Washington.

Dr. Chase Blocked Plan.

Friends of Governor Whitman on the executive committee of the Prohibition state committee, after a five hour conference Thursday in the Y. M. C. A. at Albany, with the members of the committee to fill vacancies, failed in an attempt to substitute the governor for Olin S. Bishop, the prohibition candidate for governor. Two members of the committee to fill vacancies, the Rev. P. N. Chase of Kingston and Claude V. Duval of Syracuse, blocked the plan says the Knickerbocker Press.

THE ARMY TELEPHONE.

Vivid Illustration of Its Use By Our Fighters.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
With the American Army in France, July 21—(By mail)—A bridge headquarters in an old farmhouse at two in the morning. A weary major, enveloped in a trench coat, half reclining on a rough table with a telephone at his ear. Two candles and a cot.

American troops are attacking on the left. The Germans are trying to head in our right. Outside the sky is alight with artillery fire and the farm house shakes with the thud of shells.

"Hello—Hello" shouts the major. "Hello—A. R.—are you there—wait a minute. What's that?—To what?—Yes—Yes—Good—All right—A. R."

A pause. The telephone rings again.

"Hello—Hello Moore. What's that? Three platoons? I got you—not so damned fast. Company on the right got in? Bon—Bon—that's fine. All got in you say all in communication with each other?—Bon—Bon—that's the boy. Fine night, fine night, good-night Moore."

Another ring.

"Hello—A. R. Better be careful there. Now, listen, A. R. the Germans are not anywhere near him. Well they're trying to get it now. Listen A. R.—listen, everything going all right."

Boom—boom! Two shells breaking around the farm house.

"They're doing that all right," said the major.

The telephone buzzed.

"You, Sibley! Has that truck arrived? Yes? Goodbye."

"Hello Gil. Left flank going up? All right. Who went over the top?—All right. That changes Baker and the other two platoons—all right—what's that?—On the western edge?—has the runner gone back?—What effort's been made to get their rations up?—Yes—Yes. Tell him they've got to hold on. Sibley is moving up to help you. The French are getting ready to attack. Just hold on."

The major laid down the receiver.

"Oh, God—those poor devils," he said softly. "Three miles down past that farm house our troops were pressing down through the darkness, pushing on in the face of hellish machine gun and artillery fire, beating off counter attack after counter attack. It was nearing the end of a twenty-four hour fight. Dawn was breaking. The phone calls become less frequent."

Suddenly the bell buzzed again. The major roused and picked up the receiver. "Hello—hello—well hello," he shouted. "Oh yes that young Lawson. They're all right you say? In everywhere? Digging in. are they? Sibley get there? Bon—Bon—knew they'd do it."

Where is Seaman Beachy.

The department of commerce is endeavoring to locate Harry M. Beachy, an American seaman, who has been awarded by the British government a silver medal in recognition of the part which he had in saving the crew of the British schooner Busby Bee. Mr. Beachy was born December 22, 1894, either at Baltimore or at Grantsville, Maryland. Every effort to locate Beachy has been made but so far without success. The medal is now held in the department of commerce in the hope that some trace of Beachy may be found.

CORNELL SHOPS SERVICE FLAG

A 12 Star Flag Unfurled at Noon by Joel C. Alton, Who Has Three Sons in France—Senator Walton Delivers Address.

This noon the men at the Cornell shops on the Strand unfurled a twelve star service flag for the boys who had left the shops at the country's call for men. The services were brief but impressive.

The service flag was unfurled to the breeze by Joel C. Alton, who has three sons in active service "Somewhere in France."

Former Alderman C. Beckman Jansen in a brief but feeling speech introduced the speaker of the occasion, Senator Walton.

Senator Walton gave one of the best patriotic addresses that has been heard in Kingston in many a day and paid a high tribute to the boys over there.

The boys for whom the flag was unfurled are: William Clark, Howard Alton, Thomas Leach, William Keating, James Moran, John Curran, John Parslow, James Deo, Walter King, Alfred Wood, William H. McNamee and Martin Moore.

There will be other stars added to the flag later.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Aug. 17.—D. F. Storer and family of New York have moved into their newly renovated country seat on the heights.

Allen Hughes of West New York spent the week end at home.

Mrs. Jules Brecht of the West Side is teaching a class of young girls how to knit for the soldiers. We have not noticed many of the older girls and women getting blind from too much knitting.

"Money" Longyear has enlisted and is stationed at Washington, D. C.

Private Emory Persons spent a brief furlough at home recently. "Eom." has been laid up at a military hospital with rheumatism but is rapidly getting in shape to take a crack at the Hun.

Sergeant Ryan's family have moved into the Winchell bungalow.

Fred Adair of the H. W. S. shops is spending his vacation with his parents in Gloversville.

Rob Hyde, who has been working in New Jersey, is home. "Rob" expects to be called into service shortly.

M. Schwartz and family of New York have moved into the house recently vacated by Albert Schwab.

Harry Lee and family have moved to Kingston.

Miss Minnie Evers of Kingston spent Sunday at her home.

David Dumont of the navy spent a brief furlough at home last week.

William Tueling of Niagara Falls is home for a vacation.

Granville Weeks, who is employed in New Jersey, spent a few days at home last week.

The call is out for volunteer nurses from Olive. We wonder how many of our girls will have the "sand" to enlist in this service. All honor to those who do.

Mrs. Joseph Corley of Philadelphia is visiting her mother, Mrs. Inez Dumont.

The recent rains saved the buckwheat and corn crops which were being hard hit by the drought. Oats are about all harvested and proved a fair crop. Farmers are now digging potatoes and getting ground ready for wheat and rye.

The Old School Baptists are getting ready for their two days' association meeting to be held about the middle of September.

The funeral services of Private Merritt Persons, who was killed in action July 26, were held in the Reformed Church Sunday morning. The church was well filled with Merritt's friends and the services were very impressive. The Rev. Thomas Braithwaite, who preached the sermon, spoke of the high esteem in which the young man was held and mentioned the fact that in a recent letter to a friend Merritt wrote that he had gone "over the top" twice and hoped to go again soon. Just plain country boy, the first to go and the first to die for his country, he will live in the memory of his townsmen long after the rest of us have been forgotten.

Edward Redell of Westhewen is spending some time at his home here.

Alex. Peacock has enlisted in the U. S. C. A. and is awaiting call to overseas service.

Several city people are stopping at Alfred Scott's.

Not only are the wells and springs very low but the big reservoir begins to show the effects of the drought. The east basin has been low for some time but recently several islands have appeared in the west basin. The Prattville water would help out considerably just now.

William Persons, who has been helping Everett Barnes in having, has returned from West Hurley.

Tracy Windrum and family of New York spent a few days with relatives here recently.

The funeral services of Private Newbury, brother of Mrs. L. B. Houghman, who was killed in France recently, were held in the Reformed Church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. Thomas Braithwaite officiated. Private Newbury's death was a surprise to his family.

Theron Jones, Aged 26, Grandson of Mrs. Jones of South Wall Street, Meets Death While Swimming.

Theron Jones, aged 26 years, grandson of Mrs. Mary Jones of No. 31 South Wall street, was drowned Friday night in the Hudson river at Greendale opposite Catskill. Jones was in swimming with a younger brother and it is believed he was taken with cramps. In his struggle to save himself he grabbed his brother by the leg and nearly pulled him under with him. The two boys have been working on a farm recently purchased by the family at Greendale.

Mrs. Jones was notified of the accident at about eleven o'clock last night as she was leaving the Kingston Opera House after witnessing a film play. Overcome by the news of the accident she fainted on the sidewalk and Manager George Gildersleeve conveyed her home in his automobile.

TALKED BIG WAR DID THE BOCHES

Deserter in Kaiser's Armies in 1904

Tells of Impression Such Talk Made With the Privates—In Town at Work to Meet Payments on His Farms.

Louis Bruck, 36 years old, a native of that Polish territory that since the partition of Poland has been under German rule, is the way an intelligent acting and fair talking stranger introduced himself to Postmaster DeWitt in the latter's office.

He wanted a job and a letter given to him got him one. The story he told which was sufficiently confirmed by the letters from Andes and other papers he handed to the postmaster seemed further substantiated by an honest, open countenance, his modest demeanor and prompt definite replies, while looking steadily the postmaster in the eyes.

Dressed in plain, coarse clothes, showing personal cleanliness, yet with the ruggedness of face and hands from hard work, this plainly spoken Polisher giving direct evidence of German brutalities which he said he had personally seen, made an impression that could not permit the postmaster to discredit him.

While a youth he was impressed in the German army, where until he was 22 years old he bore the severities that the Kaiser's officers at times inflicted on the men who were under them.

Ten years before the war opened in Europe, he said, he had often heard officers discuss a war which was being planned for some time later. Naturally he like others in the flat was keenly alert to such talk that is commonly heard from the lips of their superiors. It made a powerful impression on his mind, because from what was said, it was going to be a big war.

Some of his comrades were eager but he among many others became distressed. As for himself he didn't want to think about being shot at, maybe wounded or killed. So he decided to get out of the country. This talk was heard at maneuvers and field days which the Kaiser's armies are put through during times of peace. What the officers had said became talk among the privates about a big war; where and when they couldn't learn.

This was in 1904, the year he found an occasion to slip away and steal out of the country, crossing to Belgium then to France.

Finally he reached Canada, marrying a French girl and taking up a homestead in the Canadian northwest. During the fourteen years that have followed he became a naturalized citizen of Canada and has raised six children. In course of time he received word from Poland of an inheritance coming to him. When the war broke, as a Canadian citizen, it was impossible for him to get that inheritance.

Thinking he could secure it through the friendly officers of a neutral government he came to New York, but before he could get any action, if such indeed were possible, which is not likely, the United States became a belligerent.

He bought a farm near Andes in Delaware county, still holding on to the Canadian homestead. He finds this condition a handicap. He does not want to lose what he has paid on the Canadian farm, and neither can he give up the Delaware county farm and make himself and family homeless.

So he came to Kingston to get work. "I have payments that have to be made on both farms November 1st," he said. "My wife and I boys can run the farm up home at Andes. Will take care of them."

His eyes brightened and he didn't conceal his surprise and pleasure on being told of the wages being paid here. Payments on both farms are assured if he can keep at work. He has been placed on a good job.

ULSTER COUNTY BANKERS.

Guests of Edward Coykendall at Dinner and Conference.

Representatives from all banks in Ulster county were guests of Edward Coykendall, who is acting as county director of the certificates of indebtedness organization of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, at a luncheon at the Hotel Stuyvesant, on Thursday, at which time banking questions were discussed in connection with government issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness. The quota assigned to Ulster county in all issues up to the present time has been oversubscribed.

The bankers, realizing the importance of conserving credit in order to assist to the fullest extent the government in its war work, adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved that the banks and bankers of Ulster county having in mind the government's great needs because of the maintenance of our armed forces abroad and the necessity of supplying them with the necessities of war, hereby pledge themselves to conduct their business during the period of the war in a manner which will tend to enable them to help the government in the maintenance of its armed forces and to create a maximum production and distribution of war necessities.

And be it further resolved that the banks and bankers of Ulster county conserve their funds and get their assets in as liquid a form as possible to the end that they may aid the government in the present crisis by employing funds from time to time in the purchase of United States government certificates of indebtedness and further that they stand ready to lend their credit to the government in every way, to the utmost extent of their ability.

THE FRANKLIN SEDAN

Duties Become Pleasures with This Economical Fine Car

Woman's activity has multiplied a hundredfold. You need not search far to see splendid results of her untiring efforts.

Nowadays, because the women of the country are so willingly assuming a long list of national duties, the importance of an efficient, economical motor car is more keenly appreciated.

And with the growing appreciation of the need of an efficient motor car to assist in the great work she is doing, comes a real understanding of motoring costs. She has acquired a very definite knowledge of gasoline mileage, tire mileage, depreciation and resale values.

This increased necessity of motor car economy explains at once the wide popularity of the Franklin Sedan among women. For the Franklin consistently delivers—

18-20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—instead of 8
10,000 miles to the set of tires—instead of 5,000

The Franklin Sedan has many features to commend it to refined, thinking people. For instance, the wide window feature, which affords great range of vision, is exclusive with the Franklin. Easy entrance, devoid of confusion, is assured by patented front door placement and comfortable seating arrangement.

This unusual standard of beauty, comfort, and economy makes the Franklin the most popular fine car in the country. Come in and see it—today.
